

Your brochures translated, designed and printed in one service. In any language, that's 'bellissimo'.

TRANSLATION-TO-PRINT

Save time and money with professionally designed literature that communicates with all your customers worldwide - all from one supplier!

When your English language brochure, catalogue or instruction booklet needs to be recreated quickly and accurately into any number of foreign languages, you normally have to deal with translators, graphic designers and printers (sacré bleu!) -and manage the process yourself. Until now.

All Languages can now offer you a complete 'translation-to-print' service that could only be described as beautiful:

- Expert, business-savvy translators, who specialise in their mother tongue
- Experienced typesetters and creative graphic designers
- Fast, accurate printing of the highest quality
- Fast turnaround times due to our 'one-stop' service

Recently, we translated a brochure for medical equipment into 18 languages, after our client asked us to 'rescue' the situation. Poor translation abroad had failed to get to grips with the medical terminology and the artwork was returned from the printers. Our translation-to-print service delivered finished artwork on time and on budget.

Trust All Languages to deliver the result you need

We have been providing language services to Times 1000 is there a Times 1000 – I thought it was a Times 100 companies since 1982, with a highly qualified and skilled staff of over 5,000 translators. Now that we've added a dedicated design team and print facility, your foreign language printed material can be produced without the usual hassle. This is what you can expect:

- A rapid response to a single brief
- Accurate translation of all legal, technical, business and marketing texts
- A fast, flexible service from draft, to proof, to final output
- State-of-the-art design sent via digital proofs to your PC
- Competitive prices
- No need for you to get involved in technical issues between design and print

We'll use existing artwork to ensure brand integrity

Part of our job is to ensure that your brand image remains consistent throughout the translation process. Our designers are used to working with corporate and product brand guidelines, and will even utilize existing design templates to ensure that your brand is never compromised. We're equally happy to send artwork for printing overseas and we'll liaise with your suppliers to meet their specifications.

Your next brochure could be translated, designed and printed in a fraction of the usual time and without the irritation of being the go-between for all your suppliers. Just think:

- Give one brief
- Make the usual amendments
- Check proofs
- Receive print
